

CINDY AND JENNIFER

HELLO, NEWBIE! WELCOME TO THE TEAM!

NOT TOO NERVOUS, JENNIFER?

A LITTLE BIT, CINDY.

CINDY AND THE NATIONAL BASKETBALL TEAM ARE IN GERMANY FOR A WARMUP GAME BEFORE THE 2021 TOKYO PARALYMPICS.

THE GAME SURE IS EXCITING, BUT...

GO FOR IT, JENNIFER...

BE CAREFUL... YOU'LL...

KRAAK!

TWEETEEETEE!!!!
FOUL AGAINST CANADA! CHARGING!

TWO FREE THROWS FOR GERMANY.

JENNIFER, I KNOW YOU WANT TO WIN. WE ALL DO. THE GERMANS ARE VERY GOOD AND THAT MEANS WE HAVE TO GIVE IT EVERYTHING WE'VE GOT...

... BUT NOT TO THE POINT OF RISKING INJURING AN OPPONENT.

IF WE WIN BY HURTING OR BULLYING OUR OPPONENTS, WILL THAT MAKE US PROUD? WHAT KIND OF EXAMPLE WOULD WE BE SETTING? WHAT FUN IS THERE IN PLAYING THIS WAY?

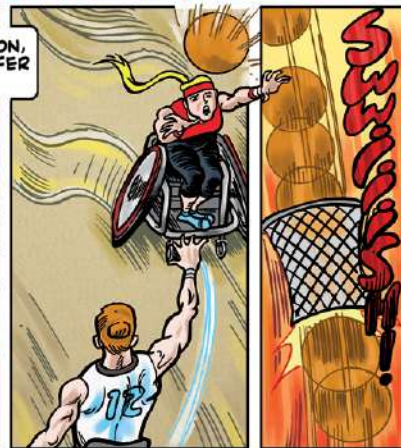

NOW, LET'S PLAY TO WIN, BUT BY RESPECTING THE RULES OF THE GAME, AND OUR OPPONENTS.

THE GAME RESUMES.

COME ON, JENNIFER!!!

GERMANY : 103
CANADA : 107

BZZZZZZZZZZZZZZT!!!

HURRAY!!

WELL DONE! YOU'VE WON FAIR AND SQUARE THIS TIME ROUND. BUT WE'LL SEE YOU IN TOKYO.

Did you know that between now and the Tokyo Games, Canada's team will play the national teams of the Netherlands, Great Britain, China and the United States? Cindy and her team members will have ample opportunities to develop their full potential. And that's why respect for one's opponents is paramount.

One of the most prestigious Olympic awards is the Pierre de Coubertin Medal. Throughout history, only a handful of people exemplifying the true spirit of sportsmanship have received this honour.

The Italian bobsledder Eugenio Monti was the first recipient of the award at the 1964 Innsbruck Games. He won it for helping and enabling his opponents to continue the race and ultimately take home the gold medal.
